GREAT BRITISH CRAFTSMANSHIP

ENDURING ELEGANCE

Welcome to Sheraton's latest collection. I'm delighted to be introducing the range as well as offering my thoughts and suggestions on how you can achieve that dream kitchen.

One of the things many people overlook when choosing a kitchen is the build quality. It's so easy to get carried away with the style, the design, even the colour, but the durability of the cabinets is what forms the foundation of your new kitchen.

As you might expect from a name long-associated with superior design and craftsmanship, Sheraton cabinets are built to last. That's why every kitchen they make comes with a 10-year guarantee.

If that doesn't give you all the peace of mind you need, you'll also find an indispensable guide to buying a new kitchen on page 158 to help make the process as simple as possible.

With so many fantastic styles, accessories and ideas across the following pages, I know you'll have no problem creating that perfect kitchen.

THE TRADITION CONTINUES

A passion for precision, enduring elegance and meticulous attention to detail is something our namesake, Thomas Sheraton, firmly believed in. His reputation as one of the greatest of all English furniture makers was built around a simple ideal: that 'good design should unite elegance and utility and blend the useful with the agreeable'.

Here at Sheraton we're continuing this tradition of seamlessly combining the practical, the beautiful and the flexible by creating a stunning collection of kitchens that are crafted for today's way of life.

Although you'll find tradition at the heart of every Sheraton Kitchen, each one is designed and built using a modern and innovative approach. The style is timeless yet fresh, and brings a real sense of elegance and luxury to the heart of your home. It is a classic British kitchen for people who appreciate the finer things in life.

Sheraton was a man who was true to his artistic ideals. His work reflected his honesty, refinement, knowledge of his craft and an unparalleled sense of beauty. This is something we strive to achieve with every Sheraton Kitchen we make. Including yours.

GREAT BRITISH HERITAGE

At Sheraton we're very proud of our British heritage, not to mention our reputation for designing and manufacturing an outstanding range of durable, high-quality kitchens. All of which are made using the latest manufacturing techniques at our modern, purpose-built factory in Yorkshire.

But being British isn't just about geography. It's about having a forward-thinking attitude and a natural flair for ingenuity. Good British design has always set the trends and pushed the boundaries, which is something we strive to do with every kitchen we create.

Wherever we can, we use British components in our Sheraton Kitchens. But to help ensure we maintain the highest possible standards, we also source materials from around the world. These are then combined and manufactured in the UK to produce a superior quality kitchen, backed by unrivalled customer service.

GREAT BRITISH CRAFTSMANSHIP

The cabinet forms the very foundation of your kitchen, so it's important to choose one that's built to withstand the daily rigours and demands of modern-day living.

Sheraton Kitchen cabinets are made using the best components and by combining tried and tested traditional methods, such as glue and dowel construction, with the latest and most innovative manufacturing techniques.

All our kitchens are made to order and supplied completely rigid*, with doors, drawers and wirework pre-fitted. The result is a superior-quality cabinet that's ready to be installed and has no unsightly fixings or redundant drill holes.

The full list of features and benefits of the Sheraton cabinet can be found on page 144. However, when choosing your kitchen, you should also give careful consideration to three other important areas: the drawers, hinges and edging.

SOFT-CLOSE HINGES

To match the well-crafted quality of the drawers, Sheraton units are supplied with GRASS 'Tiomos' hinges. These have a modern square design with no visible fixings, and an integral soft-close action that's both reliable and consistent, even from 30 degrees, with no bounce-back. The Tiomos hinge is also child-safe to ensure fingers can't be trapped in the linkages.

PROTECTIVE EDGING

The kitchen is an environment of constantly changing temperature and humidity. To protect your kitchen, Sheraton units are supplied with the finest, durable 1.3mm PVC edging. Not only does this provide a better finish, more importantly it provides better protection against moisture.

YOUR CHOICE OF DRAWER BOX

A quality kitchen deserves a superior drawer box. Sheraton Kitchens feature drawers from GRASS, onxe of the world's leading suppliers of quality drawer systems. There are three types to choose from: Scala, Nova Pro and luxury solid oak.

SCALA

Supplied as standard, Scala drawers feature full-extension drawer runners with a smooth action and a 40kg load-bearing capacity. All drawers are soft close, with a progressive damping action providing a fluid, silent close every time.

To help with cleaning, the drawers and fronts are easy to remove or replace and no tools are required. Pan drawers are supplied with either a square rail or with smoked glass sides, at no extra cost.

Scala Pan Drawers with Rails

Scala Pan Drawers with Smoked Glass Sides

NOVA PRO

Nova Pro drawers are available as a free alternative to Scala drawers and share the same great features and benefits. They're supplied in an aluminium finish, with curved twinwalled metal sides. Pan drawers are available with either a rail or glass sides, at no extra cost.

Nova Pro Pan Drawers with Rails

SOLID OAK

For a little added luxury, you can upgrade to solid oak drawers with dovetail joints. These are a perfect accompaniment to Sheraton painted kitchens and are available with a range of matching oak drawer accessories.

Oak Pan Drawers

Please see page 146 for more important features and benefits.

*Large units, such as 1000mm larder units and L shape corner base units are supplied ready-to-assemble.

COLOUR

When planning a new kitchen, the first choice you make is often your colour scheme. Along with texture and pattern, colour can be the difference between a kitchen you like, and a kitchen you love. Colour is a subjective and emotive topic, and there are lots of guidelines you can work with to make sure your kitchen perfectly matches your own personality and taste.

White provides a beautiful neutral canvas that has proven timeless, always appearing clean and fresh. You can pair this with a more striking worktop or painted feature wall to really make it pop. If white is too stark for you, then consider a softer, more tranquil tone such as cashmere or ivory. Ivory works well with dramatic colours, such as dark blues and browns, whilst still providing a neutral backdrop on which accent colours can also be used to add interest.

Although white is ideal for pairing with primary colours, creams are more suited to the secondary colour spectrum, and can be enhanced by using different shades and textures. Sand can be used as a darker, warmer scheme and its earthy tones work well with whites, creams and bolder dark browns. Just be careful when choosing an accent, as stronger colours can clash. Although traditionally used in larger spaces, don't be afraid to use dark colours in smaller rooms as this can often create a sense of depth and space when used correctly.

Using two colours is a great way to add interest subtly or in a contrasting way – for example, pairing light doors with darker colours.

George Clarke

Architect, Writer, Lecturer and TV Presenter.

COLOUR TIPS:

- Make sure your kitchen is well lit, either naturally or artificially to bring out the best of your chosen colour scheme.
- Use accessories or artwork to introduce a burst of colour that can be easily changed as trends, and your tastes, develop over time.
- Keep things simple. When using accent colours, less is more. A single accent can have much more of an impact than using two or three.
- Think about how different textures can provide you with contrasting or complementary colours. For example, a textured wall tile will add more depth to your scheme than a simpler plain tile.

THE MODERN RANGE

Today's idea of a sophisticated and elegant home is a simple and highly contemporary design that also offers effortless functionality.

With modern-day living, there's a requirement to create a space that's completely uncluttered – offering a hidden place for all those things you'd prefer to be out of sight but you use every day. Subtlest details are sometimes the ones that make a big statement – that's why the Sheraton Modern Kitchen range offers that timelessly beautiful yet slick look.

"For me, the Modern range from Sheraton makes for a striking heart to any home. Simple elegance in itself creates a beautiful sense of light and air."

"MY NEW KITCHEN CHANGED THE WAY I LIVE."

Ann Heap knocked through from the original kitchen to the dining room to create one big entertaining space.

"Everybody just comes in and says, wow!"

THE PROPERTY

Originally built in 1923, Ann had driven past the house in Grange-over-Sands in the Lake District many times. She had long hoped that some day, the run-down property might be hers to breathe life back into Twenty-two years later, her dream became a reality. Despite the cracks in the walls, the crumbling roof and out-of-date decoration, Ann saw the potential in her new home.

After 12 long months of building work, the house was restored to its former glory.

It was a long, careful process that began with a clear vision – a modern, bright kitchen that opened out onto an inviting garden space. Ann's daughters have all left home, and her husband was bappy for her to have complete freedom when styling their home.

ABOVE: Ann chose a larder cupboard that glides effortlessly and mean all her ingredients are at hand – yet still beautifully hidden from view.

Q. WHAT DID YOU WANT

In my two previous homes, my style was very traditional. I have stuck to this style throughout the rest of my new home, but when it came to my kitchen, I wanted something different. I envisioned it feeling very modern and bright – a space with lots of light and clean lines.

I love open-plan living, but really wanted to keep the space friendly and inviting, with lots of curves and soft lines to avoid the clinical feeling that some ultra-modern spaces can have if the design isn't right. Before I retired, I was a chef and owned a hotel, so I'm used to big kitchens with plenty of space, and

I also wanted clever, subtle storage – a beautiful design that didn't compromise on functionality. It's very important to me that everything has a home, from herbs and spices right down to the odd tin of chopped tomatoes! My new larder cupboard is perfect for this – I always know where to find things.

husband always jokes that I can never cook for less than twenty people!
Even now I'm retired, I still like to host dinner parties whenever I can, so my kitchen needed plenty of seating to accommodate this.

Q. WHAT MADE YOU CHOOSE A SHERATON KITCHEN?

I had a very clear idea of how I wanted my kitchen to look — curved, cream gloss units, lots of light and handle-less drawers and doors. I wasn't sure that any kitchen would truly match my vision, but when I saw this modern Sheraton Kitchen, I just knew it was the right one.

Choosing a Sheraton Kitchen meant I had so many beautiful colour and design options. I could create exactly what I wanted, exactly as I'd imagined it. On top of this, I knew I was getting impeccable quality, and something that would last

Q. WOULD YOU RECOMMEND THE SHERATON RANGE TO YOUR EDIENIS AND FAMILY?

Absolutely, yes. My kitchen is beautiful, functional and easy to clean – what more could you want?

TEXTURE

Texture is a truly exciting way to introduce depth and interest to any room, especially the kitchen. It's all about layering, complementing and using similar colours and tones, whilst also playing with the textures to give a timeless and elegant feeling to your design.

From multi-layered high gloss lacquered doors, and complementing silky satin painted finishes, to colder contemporary stone worktops or a warmer wooden breakfast bar, it's important to think of your kitchen design as a whole, taking into consideration flooring, splashbacks and even the appliances. Using contrasting textures can add great depth and interest to any kitchen, making even the simplest designs striking.

George Clarke

Architect, Writer, Lecturer and TV Presenter.

TEXTURE TIPS:

- Texture can be used to create different shades of the same colour useful when creating a monochromatic scheme.
- Understand how light will interact with any proposed textures before committing them to the scheme. Make sure you test this at different times of the day with both natural and artificial light.
- Always consider how texture impacts on your chosen colour scheme
- When using textures, remember how they feel, as well as how they look, is very important.

THE SHAKER RANGE

The perennial Shaker Kitchen offers a simple, understated style. Whilst the classic design creates a feeling of our British heritage, it's versatile enough to let you make your own mark on your space.

The Sheraton Shaker range has all the design features you could wish for and it can be configured to complement and enhance your home, whatever its style, age or size.

"The simplicity of a Shaker-style kitchen means it can feel quintessentially country-like, rustic farmhouse or urban twist – whatever your taste, it can work in your home."

ACCENTS AND PATTERNS

Accents and patterns can be used with colour and texture to lift the character of your scheme, and are an easy way to keep your kitchen looking fresh and ontrend. You don't need more than one accent colour in a scheme as this can dilute the impact – just choose a colour you love, perhaps a burnt orange or olive-green.

Accents should be used sparingly to add a burst of colour or texture to an otherwise minimalist and neutral scheme. Using one colour can have a dramatic effect, and is easily achieved by introducing coloured gadgets, artwork or floral displays. You could even feature soft furnishings in vibrant colours, such as cushions or rugs.

Adding a pattern to your scheme doesn't always mean using bright, flamboyant designs — patterns can be introduced, as with accents, in small measures. Less is more and the brighter the colour, the less you need to make an impact. A simple line, or subtle check can often add more than a louder, more detailed pattern.

George Clarke

Architect, Writer, Lecturer and TV Presenter.

ACCENT & PATTERN TIPS:

- Use accents and patterns to complement rather than dominate the colour scheme.
- Pattern doesn't need to be repetitive, so long as it has a link to the scheme, either through colour or texture.
- Try to introduce accent colours and patterns within items that can be easily changed to reflect new trends and your own personal tastes.

THE TRADITIONAL RANGE

Like its furniture-designer namesake, the Sheraton Traditional Kitchen range offers superior craftsmanship. It celebrates everything this room should be – functional, characterful and elegant. It also offers the best of both worlds with modern features and time-honoured British design.

HANDLE-LESS KITCHENS

If you're looking for a minimalist kitchen, perhaps a kitchen that doesn't feature handles as these can detract from clean lines and a sleek design, then Sheraton has three ways to achieve this – Inset, Touch and In-Line.

SHERATON INSET KITCHENS

The principle of Sheraton Inset Kitchens is that doors and drawers include a cup, fitted to the reverse, allowing them to be opened without the need for a protruding handle. This ensures a minimalist approach whilst maintaining soft close actions on doors and drawers.

To allow access to pan drawers, larder units and appliance housings, Inset kitchens are designed using horizontal and vertical extrusions, in a brushed steel finish. These not only provide a functional purpose but also work well with the range of doors available.

Inset can be used on over 60 doors, including Woodgrain, Crystal Gloss, Cube, Embossed, Satin White, Mattonella, Setosa and Lucente (all colours).

SHERATON TOUCH KITCHENS

Sheraton Kitchens can be designed without handles using our Touch system. Doors and drawers are opened simply by touch, allowing you to create a minimalist, handle-free design.

Certain units, such as pull-out larders, appliance doors and magic corner units require a handle. A specifically designed handle suite (suite 653) is available to allow these units to be opened whilst still ensuring a minimalist design. Alternatively, a face-fixed handle could be used and we recommend the following handle suites - Suites 605 and 610.

SHERATON IN-LINE KITCHENS

In-Line kitchens are the third way to design a Sheraton Kitchen without a handle. This style features an integrated J-Pull style handle grip (called J-Pull due to its shape).

The integrated grip of In-Line has been specifically developed to be deeper than other versions, providing more grip and ensuring that opening dishwasher and larder doors is easier.

In-Line kitchens are available in seven gloss finishes (Limestone, White, Ivory, Grey, Light Grey, Cashmere and Anthracite) as well as 15 matt painted colours.

ENHANCING THE DESIGN

Every Sheraton Kitchen comes with a variety of optional design features and innovative storage solutions. These give you the flexibility to customise your chosen kitchen style and further enhance the look and functionality of the space.

The corners of your kitchen are often where valuable storage space is lost, or difficult to access. Our expertly designed walk-in corner larder unit solves this problem beautifully. With an abundance of accessible storage, including a full-height wine rack, it's the perfect solution when designing around a corner.

Alternatively, you can opt for a standard corner larder unit that includes four Kessebohmer LeMans storage systems, also providing easy access in a hard-to-reach area of the kitchen.

S USING UNITS DIFFERENTLY

A standard kitchen unit doesn't have to be used in a standard way – you can create your own, unique design. Bridging units for example, typically used around a sink or a hob, can be combined with open plan shelving to create a striking, yet functional design feature.

□ DRAWER OPTIONS

Traditionally, a pan drawer unit consists of a large, shallow top drawer, with two deeper bottom drawers. An alternative option with a Sheraton Kitchen is to use a pan drawer with two narrower top drawers. Or, when using a double base unit, you can opt for a larger drawer rather than two separate drawers as shown.

When designing around a corner, there are many ways to ensure you have easy access to hard-to-reach storage space. One such solution is an L-shape corner unit. Available in multiple sizes, it can provide spacious, everyday storage.

GLAZED UNIT

Why not consider making a feature of your wall units with our stylish glazed doors? You can choose from a range of aluminium frames and glazing designs to complement both traditional and more contemporary kitchens.

← CHUNKY PILASTER

Adding decorative features like pilasters can work beautifully with a Sheraton Kitchen, particularly with the more traditional styles. There are a variety of designs to choose from, allowing you complete control over the look, feel and personality of your kitchen.

CAK DRAWERS

To complement your Sheraton Kitchen, we have a great range of larder and pantry unit options, complete with beautifully crafted oak drawers. They're available in a variety of heights and styles.

& LIFT UP WALL UNITS

An alternative to the standard side-opening wall unit is our innovative lift-up wall unit. It's ideal when you need access for longer, whilst cooking perhaps, as it allows the unit to remain open without the risk of hitting your head on the open door. The flap mechanism also features a soft close system for silent, effortless closing.

Usually a feature of traditional kitchen designs, mantels make practical and attractive additions to your space and are available in a variety of veneered and painted finishes.

A stylish alternative to the more standard L-shape corner base unit, the curved version, with its sweeping lines, can suit both modern or traditional-style kitchens. They partner perfectly with our range of curved laminate worktops and are available in a selection of kitchens:

Mattonella, In-Line (all colours), Lucente (all colours), Elegant (all colours), Chamfered (all colours), Character (all colours), Manor House Painted Shaker and Painted Timber Shaker (all colours).

*Please note that the curved unit used for In-Line ranges is supplied with two doors.

✓ WICKER BASKETS

More suited to traditional kitchen designs, these wicker basket base units are ideal for larder-style storage.

THE FUNCTIONAL MADE BEAUTIFUL

If you have a utility room in your home, now could be the perfect time to give it the Sheraton treatment too. We can help you co-ordinate it with your new kitchen, or if you prefer, give it a completely different look.

By integrating your appliances behind cabinet doors, you can create a clean, harmonious space that's as beautiful as it is functional. Adding open shelving will help break up the design and gives you easy access to smaller items.

Our tall larder units are perfect for housing items such as ironing boards, vacuum cleaners, brooms and mops; while our corner larder unit is a great way to make full use of your available space.

Whatever you decide to do, you can rest assured your Sheraton utility room will have the same level of craftsmanship and attention to detail that we put into our kitchens.

CABINET SPECIFICATION

Your cabinets will form the foundation of your new kitchen. So when you're looking for real durability, only a true quality build will do. The hallmark of that quality is a glue and dowel construction, giving you a cabinet that's built to last and leaving you no unsightly visible screws, fixings and drill holes.

As the kitchen can be an environment that has a lot of moisture in the air, it's also really important to make sure any exposed edges are protected from potential water damage too.

This range gives you the option to add even more quality with features like adjustable shelving, soft-closing hinges and anti-tip fittings.

THE RIGHT WAY TO BUY A KITCHEN

The modern-day British kitchen is by far the busiest and most regularly used room in the home. With so many functions performed in it every day, proper planning and great design is essential.

The kind of space you have available, and how your family move around it will play a huge part in the overall design of your kitchen.

You want it to look beautiful, but also work beautifully, to complement your way of living. So take your time to browse the full range of Sheraton Kitchens in this brochure, then follow these five simple steps to help you make the right choices.

IT'S ALL IN THE PLANNING

Getting a kitchen that's perfect for you and your family's needs takes time and plenty of planning, so don't try to rush this stage. Before you talk to any experts, give yourself time to sit down and think about how you would like to use the space.

Ask yourself: what would be my ideal layout? Who's going to use it? How much storage do I need? What appliances do I want? What colours and textures do I like? Do I want an island unit and can the space take it?

Measure the dimensions, including where the doors, windows and services are located and make a list of exactly what you want and need.

ADD SOME EXPERTISE

Once you have your measurements and a rough outline of what you want, it's time to visit your local Sheraton retailer to chat through your ideas with a designer.

They'll have the experience and design expertise to advise you on what will work and what won't, and will be able to turn your initial thoughts into something that not only reflects your personality, but supports and enhances your individual lifestyle.

"You know better than anyone how you and your family will use your kitchen space. So try to put together a rough plan before you talk to your kitchen designer."

George Clarke Architect, Writer, Lecturer and TV Presenter.

STEP 3 DECIDE ON THE DOORS

Nothing defines a kitchen more than the doors. Depending on the design, you can create something elegant, rustic, eye-catching, minimalist or luxurious.

A Sheraton Kitchen has dozens of Traditional, Shaker and Modern styles available, in a range of gloss, wood effect, timber and painted finishes. All of which can be customised with an extensive range of handles. Or you can choose to go handle-less if you want a truly modern look.

LET'S TALK STORAGE

You should have already thought carefully about your storage. Not just what you need now, but also in the future.

By using your available space efficiently, it's surprising just how much extra storage you can create. Sheraton units are available with all kinds of ingenious storage solutions such as the designer 'LeMans' corner unit, pull-out larders and internal drawers.

You'll find the full range of functional accessories, including lighting and shelving, from page 134.

WORK OUT YOUR WORKTOPS

Choosing a worktop is an important part of the design process and can change the whole look and feel of your kitchen. So it has to be right.

That's why Sheraton offer a huge range of durable laminate worktops from Duropal, one of the UK's leading suppliers. They're available in a wide choice of colours and styles, and in 40mm and 22mm thicknesses.

There's also a unique range of curved worktops, designed specifically to suit the collection of curved base units.

FREQUENTLY ASKED OUESTIONS

We understand you'll have potential questions which is why we've covered the ones that are asked most. However, if you have a question that isn't covered here, please contact your approved Sheraton retailer who will be able to answer your queries.

The kitchen is undoubtedly the most popular and widely used room in the house, and the various functions the kitchen of today is asked to perform, requires accurate planning and good design.

A good starting point is to look at the various ways in which your kitchen is used, how often and who uses the kitchen. This will then provide you with a list of basic design requirements for your kitchen that need to be met.

Where can I see displays of Sheraton Kitchens?

Your local Sheraton retailer will have a selection of displays and a full set of doors for you to view. We strongly recommend that you always view a display or sample door before purchasing your Sheraton Kitchen.

What's the difference between a true rigid cabinet and a flat-pack assembled cabinet?

Sheraton Kitchen units are true rigid units, assembled in our factory by skilled craftsman using the latest technology. True rigid units are assembled using glue and dowel, rather than cam and dowel construction, ensuring there are no visible fixings or redundant drill holes. Sheraton units are also supplied with doors, drawers and accessories pre-fitted and we even drill for doors and drawers for handle suite selection*.

* applies to the majority of handles.

Can I buy direct from Sheraton?

Omega PLC are the manufacturers of Sheraton Kitchens and only sell via specialist retailers who will use their extensive knowledge and expert design skills to produce the kitchen of your dreams.

What happens if I pay a deposit to a retailer for a Sheraton Kitchen who then ceases trading before my kitchen is delivered?

In the unlikely event of this happening, we run a Deposit Guarantee Scheme. This ensures that we'll still supply your Sheraton Kitchen furniture at the current manufacturer's recommended retail price list, less the deposit paid on furniture, provided that the amount paid to the dealer does not exceed 50% of the manufacturer's recommended retail price.

Do your kitchens carry a guarantee?

Yes, all Sheraton Kitchens are supplied with a 10 YEAR GUARANTEE, providing you with complete peace of mind when purchasing your kitchen. Sheraton guarantees that for a period of ten years from the date of purchase that the kitchen cabinets and fascias ("the products") manufactured by Omega PLC are free from defects in material and workmanship. Sheraton Kitchens will supply replacement products for items that do not comply with this guarantee free of charge or, at our discretion, repair such products free of charge subject to our terms and conditions.

How long will it take for me to receive my Sheraton Kitchen?

Once the retailer has placed the order with us, your Sheraton Kitchen will be delivered within 2-3 weeks. However, Painted kitchens are available within 3-4 weeks from placing the order.

Do you charge for delivery?

No. We provide FREE  delivery, direct to your home and our two-man delivery teams will ensure your new kitchen is delivered with care and professionalism.

 minimum order value applies.

Kitchen characteristics

Wood is a natural material with an endless variety of textures and grains. Variations evident on installation should diminish over a period of time to create a pleasant uniformity. As our policy is one of continuous improvement, we reserve the right to amend designs and specifications without prior notice. Where real wood veneers are used on external surfaces, we're unable to guarantee an exact match due to natural variations in colour and grain. The colours in this brochure are as accurate as the printing process will allow, and we recommend that you view a display or sample door at one of our approved retailers prior to purchase. Errors and omissions excepted.

YOUR SHERATON KITCHEN AT A GLANCE

We think it's important that you know what your kitchen is made from. That's why we've listed the material description below.
